News for League of Women Voters Minneapolis Members and Friends

Program for Action News

BY ELLEN VAN IWAARDEN

Program planning is an important part of the work of LWVMpls. With its mission to Educate, Advocate, and Empower its members, LWVMpls has educational programs throughout the year. The topics of those programs are chosen in a process that encourages the grass-roots participation of LWVMpls members—this means you!

This year’s Program for Action meeting, where possible program topics for the 2022-23 program year will be selected, is scheduled for Saturday morning, February 12, from 9:00 – 11:30 AM. It will be held as a Zoom meeting, so that members at home can stay cozy and members in warmer places at that time of the year can attend. There will be some innovations to the format, especially around welcoming new members to the process, and as always when you get members together, great conversation. Please plan to attend to promote the topics you’d like to see the League act on.

Looking back on the fall programming helps demonstrate the importance of the LWVMpls’ educational work. In September and October, LWVMpls presented a Civic Buzz on each of the three ballot questions that appeared on the Minneapolis municipal elections ballot. Experts from LWV and elsewhere educated members and the general public about each of the questions, and the ballot questions were the subject of LWVMpls unit meeting discussions.

The passage of Ballot Question One, which asked the voters to approve a proposed reorganization of responsibilities between the Mayor and the City Council, was due in large part to the leadership and work of LWVMpls members. As LWV member Patricia Kovel-Jarboe excellently outlined in her September 2, 2021 op-ed for the StarTribune, LWVMpls had worked for over 100 years to make changes like this. Kovel-Jarboe, along with LWVMpls member Catherine Shreves, presented the topic at a September Civic Buzz. Congratulations to all in achieving this long-held goal.

The Reimagining Public Safety Committee Co-chairs Jane Lansing and Jennifer Wilson presented at a Civic Buzz on LWVMpls’ study of the Minneapolis Police Department. That study’s identification of the complexities of police reform, existing reform initiatives, and critical work that still needs to be done was important information for members and voters considering Ballot Question Two. Although that ballot question did not pass, Minneapolis leaders agree that substantive police reform work still needs to be done. The Civic Buzz presentation on this topic is also a roadmap to possible further LWVMpls education and action.

From the President

COLLEEN MORIARTY, PRESIDENT

It is the time of year to pause and reflect. We have all been tested in many ways these past two years with the COVID 19 virus and social isolation that came with it.

Despite all these challenges we have over-performed in community service!

- 10 candidate forums with over 14,000 views on our Facebook live site
- 39,000 increase in voting
- Increase in votes in Wards 4, 5 and 9
- 7,000 Voter Guides distributed. (We ran out of guides and could have distributed more.)
- Another smashing success working on the election night returns project

This is just a snapshot of all of your arduous work and dedication.

I am so honored to chair the board and have the privilege of working beside such an amazing group of women. Thank you.

Here is a brief list of some of the amazing work done by LWVMpls members.

- 3,000 hours (about 4 months) of volunteer outreach
- 49 volunteers sent 3,200 postcards reminding people to vote

Editor's Note

BY DEBORAH JINDRA

As many of you know, I no longer live in Minneapolis but have stayed active in my unit and try to keep up on issues in the municipality where so many friends reside. What happens in this great city has such an impact on the entire state, and after living there for over 35 years it is hard to break its spell. During this past election I volunteered, along with a non-LWV member friend, to post get-out-the-vote information in north Minneapolis. We travelled around Ward 4 and visited hair braiding salons, barber shops, bakeries, coffee shops, and a couple of libraries on a beautiful fall day.

We skirted construction signs and torn-up roads and at one point got caught in a traffic jam due to a social justice protest on a main thoroughfare. Our reception at each stop, once we identified who we represented and why we were there, was so overwhelmingly positive that I wanted to share it with the readers of this newsletter. We had a chance encounter with one of the city council candidates who thanked us and gave us some good suggestions about where to bring our posters. We talked with small business owners who enthusiastically offered to put up our materials. One gentleman who runs a convenience store said he would do anything for the League of Women Voters because we are so helpful with his neighborhood organization's elections. While we did talk with a few folks who didn't know about the election, most people seemed to be aware of the issues and were ready to do what they could to get people to the polls. I am proud of the work our members, friends, and city residents put in to make this fall's important exercise in democracy so successful. After several wrenching years of upheaval and disease, quarantines and economic disruption, it was a positive sign that we can still disagree on policy and the best way to instigate change, but we agree on the best way to make our voices heard - through the ballot box.

Election Night Project 2021

BY ROSEMARY LAWRENCE AND JANET MIDTBO – ELECTION NIGHT PROJECT CO-CHAIRS

The 2021 election turned out to be a banner year. Minneapolis voters turned out in record-breaking numbers to vote in a municipal election. LWVMpls volunteers stepped up with equal enthusiasm to be LWV CORE (Charitable Organizations Recruitment for Elections) volunteers, providing a valuable service to Minneapolis' Elections and Voter Services, while donating their time to earn over $7,000 for LWVMpls.

Seventy-two volunteers staffed two locations where 16 items (including voted ballots) from each of Minneapolis' 134 precincts were carefully and efficiently checked-in and sorted. The process seemed to run even more smoothly than in past years thanks to well trained and hardworking precinct election judges and the efforts of LWV's volunteer CORE election judges.

Many aspects of COVID protocol were still in effect. All volunteers wore masks and had sanitizer near their work areas. Shields and gloves were provided to those who wanted them and as much social distancing as possible was maintained.

A big thank you goes to everyone who participated and to those who were on standby in case they were needed election night.

We look forward to working with the City of Minneapolis and the dedicated LWVMpls volunteers in 2022 when there will be an August primary election and a November general election for state offices.

We're proud to be part of this project that plays a small but valuable part in our democracy.

Honor an Unsung Heroine

BY DOT LILJA

When you think of the Bess Mlnarik Award, does the name of a Minneapolis LWV member pop into your head? Tell us who that unsung heroine is. Nominate her before the Annual Meeting in May/June. Watch for the Spring Voter! Meanwhile share ideas with others and seek information about her contributions to LWVMpls and the community for her nomination.

Election Services 2021

BY MARILYN CANTISANO

The 2021 Municipal Election in Minneapolis is over and what an election cycle it was! A Mayoral race with 17 candidates, 13 City Council seats, Park Board seats, Board of Estimate and Taxation seats and three ballot questions, one of which drew national attention! But the Voter Services Committee (really the League of Women Voters Minneapolis as a whole) was up to the task of registering and educating voters in the Minneapolis community.

Just a few facts:

- A total of 145,337 people cast a ballot in 2021
- 39,409 more people voted in 2021 than in the previous local election in 2017
- 54% of registered voters voted in 2021 - compared to 42.45% in 2017
- In every ward the turnout was higher in 2021 than in 2017

Over 285 volunteers from LWV made this a successful election year. There are many I would like to thank.

First, I recognize the extraordinary work of the Voter Services Committee with their hours and hours of donated time and creative ideas. Thank you to Susan Dragsten, Ellen Gavin, Jan Emerson, Jaime Gearhart, Erin Harvey, Teena Keiser, Barb Kimer, Anne Kruger, Whitney Larson, Patricia Mack, Sheila O'Dougherty, Jane Olmstead Papageorgiou, Kirsten Ragatz, Binky Wood Rockwell, Saralyn Romanishan, Chris Sigurdson, Deborah Sugerman, Nancy Schaefer, Pam Telleen, Rebecca Thoman, Meg Walters, and Judy Zaubrecher. Thank you to Janet Midtbo and Rosemary Lawrence for overseeing another successful Election Night Project (see accompanying article for details).

Thank you also to all the other LWVMpls Committees, especially Communications, Program, and Public Safety, for their ongoing support and coordination. A big thank to the office staff (Carla Jacobson, Elisabeth Hansen and Anna Treimer) for their help and support. Thank you to Margit Berg and the Park Board observers for providing a candidate questionnaire to Park Board candidates and helping to guide the creation of a questionnaire for all candidates. A heartfelt thank you to the League of Women Voters Minnesota, especially Paul Huffman, for helping us find moderators throughout the state to preside at many of our candidate forums. A special thank you to the MCN6 network for providing generous support and excellent production of the forums. Thank you to all our partners throughout the area, especially to Minneapolis Elections office and the hard working, committed neighborhood associations. A huge thank you to every LWV member and non-member who helped in any way.

Minneapolis 2021 Municipal Election
Percent Voter Turnout: Wards 4, 5, and 9

Here is a quick rundown of the accomplishments.

Voter Guides — Seven thousand (7000) print copies were distributed throughout the city and the PDF was available on our website. New this year was the addition of three additional languages guiding readers to resources in their preferred language. Thank you to the organization A Mother's Love for distributing so many guides while door knocking in Ward 5. Thank you to Thomson-Reuters for subsidizing the printing of the guides.

Candidate Questionnaires — These were sent to all candidates and responses were posted on the LWVMpls website and on Vote411 so voters could determine each candidate's stance on issues of importance to the voters.

2021 Municipal Election Articles — A series of six articles on voting were written and distributed to 37 local newspapers and neighborhood associations.

Get Out the Vote — Voting reminders (3000 postcards and 1000 text messages) were sent to Ward 5 registered voters; 100 posters were distributed to target wards; and ads encouraging community members to vote were sent to six targeted local newspapers.

Candidate Forums — Ten candidate forums (including a mayoral forum with 12 candidates) were held and one issues forum on Ballot Question 2 (public safety) were held. Over 14,000 people viewed these forums, either by attending live or by watching virtually.

Voter Registration Trainings and Voter Registration — Seven trainings were held to train 75 registrars, and 247 voters were registered to vote.

Youth Engagement — LWVMpls engaged with nine Minneapolis high schools, where 88 students were registered to vote. We secured an LWVMN Schumer grant to work with two high school student fellows in 2022. Students from Roosevelt HS have been identified and will continue work with the LWV for the 2022 election. A relationship was formed with MCTC and Augsburg College in hopes of beginning a Student Ambassador program.

Anne McLaughlin handing out the Nonpartisan Voter Guides

Neighborhood Elections — The following neighborhoods were given support and guidance for their neighborhood election.

- Whittier Alliance
- Northside Residents Redevelopment Council (NRRC)
- Phillips West Neighborhood Organization
- Little Earth (postponed)
- Cedar-Riverside Community Council

Looking ahead to the 2022 mid-term elections, the Voter Services Committee will continue to encourage voter engagement by providing voter registration and education. Please join us at our next Zoom meeting on January 12 at 7PM. Contact Marilyn Cantisano, Voter Services Chair, if you would like to be involved.

Finally, the October Civic Buzz brought together experts on both sides of Ballot Question Three, the proposal that would give the Minneapolis City Council the power to enact rent control in Minneapolis. With the passage of Ballot Question Three, a review of that presentation will give members an idea of what we might expect to see from the City Council if the newly elected Council takes up the topic. All the Civic Buzz presentations are recorded and available on the LWVMpls website. If you have topics you would like considered for the 2022-23 year, please attend the Program for Action meeting on Saturday, February 12 at 9:00 AM.

New Member Spotlight: Jaime Gearhart

BY NANCY ALBRECHT, MEMBERSHIP

We want to welcome Jaime Gearhart, a new member of the League of Women Voters, who got involved right away, working with Voter Services and the Communications team.

Gearhart grew up in Biwabik, Minnesota, on the Iron Range.

She is the only child of two teachers. Her father was an elementary teacher focusing on computers, and her mother taught interpersonal and intercultural communications at Mesabi Range Community College in Virginia. Both parents worked hard to make sure Jaime took an active part in her school and community.

While attending Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff, AZ, Gearhart met her future husband, Kyle. They moved back to Minnesota, where he attended the University of Minnesota School of Dentistry; he currently practices at Southdale Dental Associates in Edina.

Once in Minnesota, Gearhart started her career in public relations and then transitioned into working with students as an academic advisor and enrollment coordinator at the University of Minnesota. She always loved the start of school in the fall with all of the renewed energy on campus. In 2016, after 16 years at the U of MN, she left her position to focus on volunteering and philanthropy and has done everything from building a house in North Minneapolis through Habitat for Humanity, to assisting with the Special Olympics events. Gearhart joined the League of Women Voters during the pandemic, where she started volunteering with Voter Services. Her first assignment was representing LWV at a naturalization ceremony, providing new citizens with information about how to register to vote, which was “a very powerful experience.”

Along with LWV, her current volunteer commitments include ongoing work in the development office at the MN Landscape Arboretum, serving as co-chair for their annual fundraising gala, as well as working in the Visitor Experience department at the Minneapolis Institute of Art. Her special interests are social justice and racial issues. The political and social upheavals of the past few years have inspired her to recommit to service within her neighborhood and community and have revived her interest in politics. She would love to see the League of Women Voters expand their membership to better reflect our population and advocate for more diverse voices in the room.

We welcome you, Jaime. Thank you for choosing the League of Women Voters to enhance our organization with your talents and energy.
