REVIEW OF EXISTING LWVMN POSITIONS:

Are there LWVMN positions that need to be dropped or updated? If we want to take action on an issue, we need to have a position on it. Over time, some positions may become out of date, irrelevant, or we might not support them anymore. You may wish to begin by reviewing the document “Selected LWVUS and LWVMN Positions” (enclosed)* to get a sense of what our major positions are. However, if you want to know if the position for your topic of interest should be kept, updated, or dropped, you will want to refer to the full text of the position which is in the document “LWVMN Program for Action 2017-2019” which can be quickly accessed at the following web address: <https://lwvmn.org/where-we-stand/other-positions>

*Please note, we are not reviewing LWVUS positions this year, only LWVMN

After reading the full text of the position, if you believe that the position should be dropped or updated, please state it below, with explanation.
